Teach your child to dial Triple Zero (000) and remember details

The Queensland Ambulance Service is encouraging parents and caregivers to teach their children how to become potential lifesavers by practising calling Triple Zero (000) with a disconnected or toy phone, or by playing an online training game at http://kids.triplezero.gov.au/. When calling Triple Zero and requesting an ambulance, an emergency medical dispatcher will provide advice and dispatch medical help to your location.

For this reason, it’s also important for families to familiarise themselves with their holiday surroundings by memorising holiday addresses and beach access codes, so they can relay the correct information to Triple Zero staff.

More information can be found at http://www.ambulance.qld.gov.au/default.asp

Preparation the key to safe bushwalking

When preparing for a bushwalk these school holidays, safety should always be paramount. Emergency Management Queensland (EMQ) recommends you let someone know the route you plan to take and the time you will return by, talk to locals about the area you plan to walk in and make sure you are suitably attired with proper footwear and extra clothing should temperatures drop.

For more information visit the EMQ website at http://www.emergency.qld.gov.au/emq/.

Garden - Well they are a mess!! Please if you have even 1/2 hour free on your way past, please help us do some weeding. Over the holidays we will be having approximately 20 tonnes of siltstone delivered as mulch, therefore the gardens need to be at the stage so we can lay the black plastic & then rock them. We know everyone is busy, but many hands make light work.

Centenary - We are slowly moving with the organisation of our 100 year celebrations. Expression of Interest are also being sought for caterers from community groups.

Customer services at headquarters received the following letter recently. Luckily our top puzzle solvers were able to determine the meaning and help Mrs Middins. Can you work it out what her problem was?

Mr Middins,

I recently visited one of your outlets to buy one of your typewriters. However, as you can see I am having a small problem. The middle row of the keyboard appears to be faulty.

I would be very grateful if you could despatch a replacement by return mail. Failing this, could you please send an engineer to restore this problem as a matter of urgency.

Yours faithfully,
Mrs Middins.
