Skip rope for heart
This term our students are participating in the skip rope for heart program. The program aims at improving student’s fitness, health and knowledge of healthy living through fun and challenging activities. Our students have already made some huge gains with some now being able to skip quite proficiently. Our more advance skippers are also learning new skills also. It’s great to see the students achieve something and set themselves new challenges. All the students are very supportive of their peers which really are a great thing to see.

NAPLAN
Our senior students started the NAPLAN tests today. Some of them have displayed a little stress which of course never helps to clear the mind and think properly. Today we had language conventions and spelling, we also did writing. Tomorrow is the reading part followed by numeracy on Thursday. Please help your child relax a little if they are talking about the tests. Lollies were provided which is always a hit. The reading test tomorrow has a number of articles in a booklet with some questions about the text for the students to answer. This test is the easiest as all the answers are there in front of them. Our students complete reading cards everyday which is the same concept.

Liam Oppermann update
An update on one of Binjour’s favourite sons is all good news. Liam is recovering well and should be back at school soon. He has been put on some harder foods as his mouth improves. We hope to see Liam return in the next 2 weeks.
